Business Issues Affecting Land Surveyors

Thursday, April 13, 2017

Clark University MetroWest
Campus
333 Turnpike Road (Route 9)
Southborough, MA
Registration: 8:00 AM
Seminar: 8:30 AM - 4:30 PM

$200 Members; $250 Non-members

This one-day seminar is broken into two parts, and is intended for land surveyors who wish to explore the business side of the profession. The first part will address general business, benefits, and taxes geared to the needs of small businesses. The second part discusses recent employee/employer rules and regulations and the increase in litigation surrounding wage and hour disputes.

A Message from the President, Sean Ewald

As my term as President of MALSCE comes to a close, it seems like an ideal time to reflect on our accomplishments over the last two years as well as to look forward to the future of the Association. I can honestly say that becoming involved in the leadership of MALSCE has been a truly rewarding experience, and one I will cherish for the rest of my career. I've made and strengthened many wonderful relationships with colleagues, competitors, and others in and around our profession that have widened my view of the world we live and work in.

I'm very proud of the expanded offerings we've put together on various professional development topics, and we've worked very hard to listen to you, the members, and give you what you want. The increased attendance leads me to believe we're moving in the right direction and we're always welcoming more input! The success of last year's Convention and the excitement building around this year's event has me very optimistic that positive momentum will continue to push us forward for many years to come.

Lastly, I turn to the future leadership of our organization. We have an excellent Board of Directors established, with Paul Foley moving from his role as Vice President to the President's seat. Paul has been instrumental in many of our recent successes, so I'm confident that we will not see any slowdown in our progress. And I would be remiss if I didn't mention the critical role that The Engineering Center plays in keeping us on the straight and narrow, particularly the contributions of Rich Keenan as our Association Manager. Rich is truly the glue that holds us together, and I encourage you all to thank him for his efforts.

Thank you all, and best wishes!
Sean Ewald
