About the Bolling Municipal Building

The Bruce C. Bolling Municipal Building in the heart of Dudley Square is the headquarters for the Boston Public Schools,

Arup worked in collaboration with the Sasaki / Mecanoo design team to engineer the Bruce C. Bolling Municipal Office Building. Dudley Square is a mass transit hub, rich with culture and history. The facility is a part of former Mayor Menino's Dudley Square Vision Project, which sought to revitalize the once-thriving urban neighborhood. Using the past to create the future, the facility preserves and incorporates the iconic Ferdinand Building, an emblem of the square's historic commercial vitality. The 215,000-SF structure includes a green roof, state-of-the-art office space, retail, civic spaces, and community meeting space.

Enjoy the 6th floor roof terrace that offers vistas across the city toward downtown and the water beyond, signifying Dudley's reborn presence as the gravity point of the city of Boston.

Celebrate with us on June 21 to learn about the Bolling Building from Arup and Sasaki, and hear about 2017 Engineering Excellence Awards Grand Conceptor & Gold Award-winning projects:

VHB's Route 79/I-195 Interchange Improvements and Repairs and Painting of the Braga Bridge project

Kleinfelder's Massport Coastal Flooding Resiliency Project

Tighe & Bond's Great Lakes Water Authority Biosolids Drying Facility

WSP's National Museum of African American History and Culture
