WHEN ASSOCIATIONS NEED HELP, THEY CONTACT THE ENGINEERING CENTER EDUCATION TRUST

The Engineering Center Education Trust (TECET), provides educational programs and information services to engineers, land surveyors, related professionals and the public.

The Engineering Center Education Trust provides administrative support on an annual contractual basis to many associations, specifically including: administration of membership, database systems, finances, meetings and seminars; coordination and production of newsletters and web sites; and general administrative support. TECET also provides an email address, public relations and editorial expertise, networking opportunities with allied professional organizations, a library and a facility with space for meetings.

Located on Beacon Hill in Boston, The Engineering Center Education Trust, a 501 (c) (3) organization, is a consortium of associations and professional societies providing educational programs and information services to engineers, land surveyors, related professionals and the public. TECET's mission is to enhance the impact of the Massachusetts engineering and land surveying community.

Why Choose The Engineering Center Education Trust?

- TECET has over 25 years of experience managing trade associations and professional societies of differing degrees, size and scope.
- TECET is home to many associations and societies of different sizes in the engineering, land surveying, environmental and transportation fields. Associations in these fields benefit from the cooperation, coalition building, government affairs activities and shared staff with organizations in related fields.
- TECET relieves board leaders of administrative details.

- TECET managers know what it is like to be a volunteer society leader. Several of TECET's senior managers currently serve or have served as volunteer leaders on boards.
- TECET provides its association partners with experienced, professional leaders in association management and administrative support.
- TECET offers its association partners economy of scale. The service and professional expertise provided at TECET is at a fraction of the cost of maintaining their own offices and employees.
- TECET offers solid experience in event management, including years of experience with contract negotiations for annual conventions and a number of smaller meetings. We have strong business relationships with a number of eastern Massachusetts hotels and conference centers, plus experience working with many other facilities.

TECET SPONSORING SOCIETIES

- American Council of Engineering Companies of Massachusetts (ACEC/MA)
- Boston Society of Civil Engineers Section of ASCE (BSCES)
- Massachusetts Association of Land Surveyors and Civil Engineers (MALSCE)

TECET AFFILIATE ASSOCIATIONS

Many associations join TECET as Affiliate members. TECET manages databases, publications and meetings, and provides a permanent address for engineering-related, transportation or environmental societies. Our Affiliate Associations include:
