Virtual 2021 MALSCE Convention

Session Descriptions

The 2021 Virtual MALSCE Convention will include the following sessions:

Wednesday, March 17, 2021

Exhibitor Quickfire Session

Featuring a rapid-fire format during which exhibiting vendors will provide an overview of the products and services they offer.

Federal Issues Facing the 117th Congress: Policies in Washington, DC That Will Impact Your Profession

John "JB" Byrd, Miller/Wenhold Capitol Strategies, LLC
NSPS Registered Lobbyist John "JB" Byrd will review federal issues and the outlook for topics relevant to the 117th Congress. In addition to recent wins by NSPS on the Digital Coast, 3DEP, land subsidence, and Davis Bacon, attend to learn about pressing federal policies impacting the surveying profession.

Stone Walls and Surveying

Robert M. Thorson, University of Connecticut

Professor Thorson will review the origin of New England stone walls and explain their link to the surveying profession. He will explain the basic features of walls, how they can be classified, why walls are so common, why they should be preserved, and how New England stone walls contrast with those elsewhere in the U.S. and the world.

The NEW 2021 ALTA/NSPS Land Title Survey Standards

Gary R. Kent, PS, Owner, Meridian Land Consulting, LLC
After two years of work on the part of the Joint ALTA/NSPS Committee, the proposed 2021 ALTA/NSPS Land Title Survey Standards were adopted in August and approved by ALTA and NSPS in October, with an effective date of February 23, 2021. This program will outline the changes from 2016 and provide an explanation of what each means to the surveyor. In addition, the program will include an overview of the entire set of 2021 Standards and a detailed explanation of the relationship between Land Title Surveys and title insurance. Finally, some common questions, and requests from lenders, that arise in the process of performing a Land Title Survey will be discussed.

Innovative Land Surveying Technologies

Jim Bosworth, Maine Technical Source, Todd Carlson, Carlson Software and Robert Vargo, Keystone Precision Technologies
An examination of four technologies which are shaping the way surveyors collect, analyze, and present data.

Educational Requirements for the Professional Land Surveyor

William J. McGovern (Terry), Wentworth Institute of Technology

The session features a discussion of the educational requirements to become a Registered Professional Land Surveyor and the required education and training within the profession as a whole. You will learn how land surveying as a profession is different from other engineering professions, and how changing technology and business practices have changed the role of the surveyor, and how knowledge and training within the profession has evolved.

Smart Urban Corridors

Ned Codd, PE, WSP

Transportation across the country is changing rapidly. There is a great deal of excitement surrounding new modes of transportation and new technologies, which have given rise to rethinking how our streets are designed, and how the space on these streets is allocated. Ned will discuss the future of our transportation system and its impact on the civil engineering and land surveying professions.

Case Studies in Land Surveying

J. Dan Bremser, PLS, Hancock Associates, George Collins, PLS, Boston Survey Inc., and Stephen P. Dyer, PLS, Fieldstone Survey Services

Join us for a look at of some of our most challenging and intriguing survey projects.

The Art of Retracement – Following in the Footsteps

Gary R. Kent, PS, Owner, Meridian Land Consulting, LLC
Every professional surveyor across the United States knows the phrase "Follow in the Footsteps" as it relates to conducting a boundary retracement survey. But what does it really mean and what is the basis for following the footsteps? Surveyors also know the effect of the statute of frauds is that what is written in the conveyancing document is considered by the courts to be the highest and best expression of the parties' intentions. But what happens when the evidence of the footsteps on the ground conflicts with the written title or there are seemingly no footsteps to follow? This session explores the concept of retracement, how it relates to and is dependent on the document of conveyance, and what controls when conflicts are inevitably encountered.

Virtual Reception, MALSCE Education Trust Benefit

Auction & Awards Ceremony

After a four-hour break, grab a beverage and participate in the convention's virtual reception. You'll have an opportunity to chat with colleagues and help MALSCE recognize the President's Citation recipients and Plan and Field Notes Contest winners. Help raise money for the MALSCE Education Trust by becoming your own auctioneer and fielding bids on your auction item.

Virtual Murder Mystery – This One Last Time

Brought to you by The Murder Mystery Co.

The pleasure of your company is requested to attend a party to end all ... blackmail. You are invited to a night like no other inside my fully automated mansion, with plenty of libations and a roast. Held in honor of ending a life of looking over your shoulder, attendance is mandatory and a regrettable outcome will beseech you if you're not there. Remember ... I know what you did. Sincerely this one last time – R.I.P.
